

THE PEGGY LIPSCHUTZ ART FUND

The Peggy Lipschutz Art Fund was established to raise $1,600 to purchase "Joe Hill," the latest in the series of oil portraits created by the remarkable artist Peggy Lipschutz. The portrait will be added to the permanent collection at the Old Town School of Folk Music in Chicago, Illinois. All proceeds raised beyond the goal of $1,600 will be donated as a separate gift to the Old Town School of Folk Music Building Fund.

ABOUT PEGGY LIPSCHUTZ

Peggy Lipschutz was born in 1919 and her career in art has spanned more than 70 years. Her portfolio includes works in every medium from pencil to chalk to oil portraiture. Her work is recognized nationwide and abroad, as uniquely personal and socially important. Her images of folk artists Woody Guthrie, Big Bill Broonzy and Pete Seeger have hung at the Old Town School of Folk Music since 1970, and have become a trademark of one of Chicago's most cherished arts institutions.

ABOUT THE WORK

"Joe Hill was an artist," said Lipschutz. "He was a song writer and a musician, and an activist. He was wonderful. Some of his best songs are still being sung today."

Lipschutz' rendering of Joe Hill is vibrant, colorful and timeless. Fill out the form below and join the movement to add "Joe Hill" by Peggy Lipschutz to the permanent collection at Chicago's Old Town School of Folk Music.
